Every once in a while, a {new arrival} comes along and we instantly know it's in a league of its own; exceeding our every expectation and then some, these attention-holders are so darn good we've come to sum them up in just three words: Need. It. Now. That's it, that's all it takes to let Team Cult Beauty know they're in the presence of greatness: the kind of product we buy in twos so we don't run out, the formula that our friends never hear the end of.

Skin care doesn't get more 'cult' than {Kate Somerville} and its stateside range of super-heroes from the AAA-List's favourite facialist. With legions of high-profile devotees, Kate Somerville herself distilled over 25 years of experience into an extensive edit of products to tackle a spectrum of common concerns – from blemishes to fine lines, you'll be sure to find a solution amongst her heroic line-up.

Among such greatness, you'll now find the all-new {Goat Milk Duo}, which stars the brand's soothing goat milk recipe in two bestselling formulas. Used for centuries in skin care (the Ancient Egyptians were well ahead of the curve on this one) goat's milk naturally heals and nurtures skin, lavishing it with infusions of proteins, vitamins and amino acids.

Boasting a 25% saving, the Goat Milk Duo stars two full-sized Kate Somerville formulas: the {Goat Milk Cleanser} and the {Goat Milk Moisturizing Cream}.

Perfect for all skin types (even the most sensitive!), the moisturising Goat Milk {Cleanser} gently removes make up, dirt, oil and impurities without stripping skin of its radiance or essential moisture. Whisked up with the brand's utterly adored and soothing goat milk recipe, it's rich in natural milk proteins, nourishing manuka honey and conditioning jojoba and avocado oils.

The Goat Milk Moisturizing Cream then provides deep hydration for a gorgeous, healthy-looking glow. The creamy and indulgent formula uses lactose from goat's milk to soothe and {moisturise} dry, damaged skin while biologically active milk polypeptides nurture sensitivity and dryness, working to restore your skin's moisture balance while defending against damaging free radicals with vitamin E.

Our advice? Make like Cleopatra and indulge in these goat milk-imbued formulas ASAP for ultra-soothed, pampered skin...
